Though it may take time, our acceptance policy is personalized and designed to ensure, to the best of our ability, to help find the best fit for the student and the family.

An application is not considered complete until the above requirements are met and the supporting documents are provided, when applicable.

When the application is complete, the Student Advisory Committee will review the supporting documents. Pending the review, an Administrator may potentially set up a meeting with the parents and student to discuss enrollment and/or send an acceptance letter.
